Dear Sir,

My Husband was admitted to the Hospital on February 8th, 2025 due to severe vomiting. After investigations, doctors discovered an Aneurysm in brain blood vessel, which had ruptured. He was critically admitted to the ICU, and an emergency implant procedure was performed on February 9th, 2025.

He is now off ventilation, but we are still waiting for him to regain consciousness. So far, we have spent Rs. 35 lakhs on his treatment, and we are struggling to cover the hospital bills and the cost of further care. We do not come from a financially strong background, and we desperately need help to support his recovery.

Please help us bring him back from this critical condition

Thank you
